SCHOOL FOUNTAIN IS GIFT OF GRADUATING CLASS

It has been the custom for each senior class in the Gulfport High school when leaving the school to present it with some token of esteem. The class of 1924 decided to give to the school a drinking fountain and it was ordered some time ago but arrangements were not made to put it in place until recently. The fountain was furnished by Hamilton Bros. and was put in place in the center of the main approach to the High school building Saturday. Constructed of cast iron finished in material which makes it rust-proof and provided with four automatic sanitary drinking appliances, it is an ornament as well as a convenience to those who are around the school building. In plain view from the street and being of use almost constantly, it is a fit emblem of remembrance for one of the worth-while classes which graduated from the school.

GLOBE TROTTERS COME TO GULFPORT FOR 13TH TIME

Three 50-year-old men by the name of A. L. Alexander, L. and M. L. Vuilliamont, and who are as active as they were, visited Gulfport this morning. They are triplets and globe trotters. Born in New Orleans they started on June 1, 1923, to visit every capital in the United States and then go abroad. Starting without a cent of money they have paid their way by shining shoes. Each member of the trio has earned enough money by shoe shining to buy a Lincoln coupe and also a fine diamond ring. They each drive their own coupe and wear the diamond rings. Every capital in the United States has now been visited, they having a letter and the seal of each governor in all of the states of the union. They wear good clothes and stop at good hotels. No charge is made for shining shoes, each person getting a shine giving any amount they choose. "We will take passage abroad," said A. L. Vuilliamont this morning, "and expect to get around the world by June 1, 1925. They have been in Gulfport thirteen times.

ANNIVERSARY SALE

The Bee Hive will celebrate its fifteenth anniversary tomorrow by putting on a two-day sale advertised elsewhere in today's Herald. Fifteen years ago I. B. Rau, the proprietor, came to Gulfport to look the town over and deciding that it had a future before it he decided to move from New Orleans and engage in the mercantile business. The wisdom of Mr. Rau's course has long since been demonstrated by the success which his store has met with, now ranking as it does with the leading establishments of south Mississippi.

PRINCE DIETRICH OF GERMAN VISITS NASH MOTORS KENOSHA PLANT

A prince of royal blood, Dietrich Zwick was the guest of the Nash Motors Company last week, slipping into Kenosha and out again as quietly and as unceremoniously as though he were a plain American business man. As a matter of fact Prince Dietrich, a Wurtemberg of Stuttgart, Germany, is a business man and his visit to this country is for the purpose of making a first-hand study of volume production methods in several of the larger automobile plants, he being greatly interested in one of the greatest motor car factories in Germany. The visit of Prince Dietrich came at a time when the Nash factories are breaking all previous sales and production records and he believed a scene of typical American activity.

Accompanied by a party of prominent Chicagoans of German descent Prince Dietrich was greeted by C. W. Nash and other officials of the company. After a tour of inspection of the factory buildings the prince declared that in his opinion the Nash was the finest automobile factory with reference to production efficiency he ever had visited.

This is one of the two American automobile factories in which I am particularly interested," said Dietrich. "In Germany our methods are different. There five cars a day will be produced by the same number of men that would build 300 cars a day here with your wonderful machinery and methods of production equally as wonderful."

Prince Dietrich, with his ready smile and engaging personality, is thorough in his study of American Methods of motor car production. Questions asked while going through the Nash plant made apparent his extensive knowledge of machinery and mechanics. He feels that a car combining modifications of European appearance and American methods of production would win immediate recognition in Europe, hence his particular interest in the production methods of Nash Motors.

Unmarried and 24, in his ideas for a career Prince Dietrich represented the trend among the new generation of German nobility.

New Orleans is the Southern distributing point for the south, and their representative agency for the Mississippi Coast counties and Gulf cities is now temporarily located at 1406 10-20th Avenue. Mr. Frank Huttenlocker, formerly of Fayette Mississippi is the Nash agent, and is looking for a permanent location here in Gulfport for a display room and service shops where only Nash experts of long service will be employed to service Nash Motors. Service stations are also contemplated in Biloxi and all other Mississippi Coast cities. This is a most welcome adjunct to the great motor industry of Gulfport and surrounding territory, and a valuable asset to the city of Nash cars. Mr. Huttenlocker is expecting a shipment of Nash cars the last of this week. The tremendous output of cars by the Nash factory is the result, and a handicap to all the agencies. advg111

HOUSE WARMING

The Gulfport Printing Company, who recently moved into their new home on 24th avenue and the L. & N. railroad, will hold "open house" for six hours tomorrow, May 12, starting at 3 p.m. A modern printing plant is an interesting point when all the wheels are going round. Ralph E. Brash has been in business in Gulfport many years and this new plant is his dream coming true. He will let the public in "on the ground floor" and tell how it has taken a long time to do away with the state of affairs were used in getting to his former place of business. When asked about the "cats" Ralph mentioned printer's "pi." Anyway the public will have "something" on Brash tomorrow afternoon when they call on him at his new plant.

GULFPORT DOESN'T LACK FEMINE BEAUTY

Twenty-nine per cent of all the feminine beauty in Mississippi rightfully belongs to Gulfport. If a page in Sunday's rotogravure section of the New Orleans Times-Picayune is an index of the truth. Of seven photographs of Mississippi girls reproduced on that page, two reflect faithfully the loveliness of Gulfport young women—Miss Elizabeth Osborne and Miss Gladys Fallon. The pictures were chosen from a collection of state beauty photographs of former students of the University of Mississippi.

CHINESE ARE NOT ELIGIBLE

Supreme Court Rules Children of Yellow Race Cannot Attend White Public Schools.

Jackson, Miss., May 11.—The state supreme court today ruled that Chinese children are not eligible to attend the white public schools of Mississippi in reversing and remanding a case brought from the circuit court of Bolivar county styled G. P. Rice et al vs Martha Lum et al.

The high court held that Chinese children under the school laws of Mississippi are not a part of the white race, but of the colored race, and that therefore they must attend the colored schools until some provision is made for them by the legislature.

It was pointed out that while education in Mississippi is compulsory, Chinese residents must either attend the private schools or the negro schools, provided by the state.

This is the first case of this nature ever to be brought to the courts of Mississippi and it is believed that there has been no case similar to this one ever brought in the courts of the United States.

In 1920, a ruling on this issue was sought from the attorney general of Mississippi, who ruled that the Chinese were not entitled to attend the white schools of the state.

E. C. Sharp, of Honeoyeville, former assistant attorney general, represented the state in this case, and Brewer, Brewer and McGehee, of Clarksdale and Flowers, Brown and Hester, of Jackson were the attorneys for the defense.

The suggestion of error entered in the case of George Mackie, alias Mr. Key, of Pike county under sentence to hang May 22 was overruled. Two other cases have decisions rendered today, each with justices dissenting. The case of Sam Graham vs Mississippi Central Railroad Company brought from the circuit court of Jefferson Davis county was affirmed. Justice Etheridge dissented.

The case brought by W. J. Miller, state revenue agent against the estate of Dr. Oscar Copeland from the chancery court of Tishomingo county, involving the question of assessment of timber on this estate, was also affirmed. The court was equally divided on this case however, Justices Cook, Etheridge and Holden all dissenting.

The following decisions were handed down today by division B: J. Anderson vs. E. Deau et al vs Mrs. Edna Brannon, circuit Forrest, affirmed.

Mrs. Grace Rainey Rogers, executrix vs Will Foley, chancery Tippah, affirmed.

Richard Gordan et al vs Sam Parker et al, chancery Washington, affirmed.

Bolivar Compress Company et al vs J. L. Mallett, circuit Bolivar, affirmed.

Alice Byars vs Wash Byars, chancery Marshall, affirmed.

T. B. Abby et al vs Delta Bank and Trust Company, chancery Coahoma, suggestion of error overruled.

William Thompson vs State, circuit Greene, motion for certiorari sustained.

C. Sullivan et al vs State circuit Simpson, motion for certiorari sustained.

T. F. Wilsford, vs J. N. Johnson et al, motion to discharge supersedeas sustained and appellants given 30 days to give supersedeas bond in sum of $12,000 conditional according to law to be approved by the clerk of the chancery court of Sunflower county.

Columbus & Greenville Jr. R. Company vs M. J. N. Circuit Carroll, reversed and remanded.

R. N. Sims et al vs M. Kline, circuit Bolivar, reversed and remanded.

Joe Cooper vs F. C. Martin, chancery Pearl River, remanded to docket for argument before division A at first meeting in September.

H. and C. Newman vs Delta Grocery and Cotton Company, chancery Coahoma, suggestion of error overruled.

A. D. Williams vs Board of Supervisors DeSoto county, chancery DeSoto, suggestion of error overruled.

W. I. Munn vs Mattie Vance et al, circuit Newton, suggestion of error overruled.

State vs Board of Supervisors Grenada county, circuit Grenada motion to dismiss overruled.

Mrs. E. W. Chamberlain, etc., vs

Marguerite de la Motte and Conrad Nagel in "CHEAPER TO MARRY"

E. F. Nunn et al, circuit Noxubee, motion for diminution of record sustained. Joe Dent vs Town of Mendenhall, circuit Simpson, reversed and remanded. D. L. What vs Henry J. Laeals et al, chancery Harrison, affirmed. T. A. Knochs vs Delta Cotton Oil Company, circuit Hinds, affirmed in part and reversed and remanded in part. Southeastern Express Company vs A. M. Thompson, circuit Clarke, reversed and remanded. J. Anderson took no part. Miss Kate Armstrong vs Ross Busby et al chancery Newton, affirmed. O. V. Hull, Sr., et al vs C. C. Faucher, chancery Attala, affirmed. Julia McClure et al vs Delta Undertaking Company, chancery Washington, affirmed.
